The PVBLIC Foundation, in partnership with the Ismael Cala Foundation, UNCTAD and Univision, will be Hosting the Latino Impact Summit, one of the Few Events in Spanish held at the United Nations Headquarters, for the Second Consecutive Year. The Summit will bring together Latin American Leaders from Different Sectors in search of New Opportunities and Solutions for the Region. It will be held in New York from November 30 to December 1, 2017 and the Main Theme will be generating New Alliances for Latin America's Progress, as framed by the Sustainable Development Goals.

Some of the region's leaders participating as panelists include :

For the PVBLIC Foundation, it is very important to work hand-in-hand with UN Initiatives in the Search for a Better World. For this reason, the Summit's focus will be on finding New Alternatives for the Region's growth by means of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG).

Latin America is one of the Regions with the Highest Poverty and Inequality Rates. Between 2002 and 2015, the Wealth of Latin America's Multimillionaires grew an average of 21% yearly - an increase six times greater than that of the Region's GDP, according to estimates from ECLAC (The Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean).

This Year's goal is to bring together 300 Leaders, among them Young Latinos from the Millennial Generation, as well as Latino Economic Leaders from both inside and outside the United States. Univision's main hosts will serve as Moderators for some of the Talks, together with Writer, Speaker and Presenter Ismael Cala, as well as scholars from INCAE University.

The Event will culminate with the Presentation of Six Awards recognizing the Work of Latin American Leaders who have supported and encouraged the Latino Community to keep working to promote Regional Growth.
